

THE IPA AT YOUR OFFICE

Is your firm or company aware of the benefits the IPA offers paralegals? If not, we'd like the opportunity to visit your firm or company to give a presentation outlining the benefits which include educational opportunities, networking, growth through volunteering opportunities, and many more. For many years the IPA has hosted two education conferences a year. This November 5 our education conference will take place at the Metropolitan Club at the Willis Tower. This conference will expose paralegals to service providers ranging from expert witnesses to document management companies and offer a wide variety of sessions to inform paralegals of new and relevant changes in various areas of the law. The specialty and geographic sections of the IPA host meetings throughout the year giving paralegals the opportunity to collaborate with their peers, keep abreast of changes in the law, technology, and workforce. Through these specialty and geographic sections paralegals learn from each other making them more efficient, informed, and prepared to take on their tasks. Membership in the IPA also provides membership in the National Federation of Paralegal Associations. Keeping informed of the changes in the paralegal profession, having a voice in the development of the profession, and additional educational opportunities are just a few of the benefits of the NFPA membership. If you'd like a member of the IPA to present the benefits of membership to your firm or company, please reach out to our membership committee at Membership@ipaonline.com. We will be visiting firms and corporations during the months of September and October. Contact us now to schedule your presentation.
